International Association for Chronic Fatigue Syndrome/ Myalgic
Encephalomyelitis

16th International Scientific Conference

The Westin Fort Lauderdale Beach Resort

Fort Lauderdale, Florida, USA – October 27 – 30, 2016

Mark your calendars to join us next October 27-30, 2016 for our 16th International Scientific Conference to be held in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, USA at the Westin Fort Lauderdale Beach Resort. We anticipate an exciting, informative program including our signature opening day workshop for clinicians and our unique lecture series tailored for patients and their supporters. The Institute for Neuro Immune at Nova Southeastern University, based in Fort Lauderdale, will also be hosting a special open house focusing on their work the day before, October 26.

Our conferences are attended by hundreds of scientists, physicians, and other professionals interested in chronic fatigue syndrome/ myalgic encephalomyelitis, fibromyalgia, co-morbid illnesses (e.g. orthostatic intolerance, insomnia, irritable bowel syndrome, hypothyroidism), and other medical conditions/ circumstances (e.g. aging, overwork) characterized by chronic fatigue. Attendees come from all over the United States and over 25 countries. For a taste of our meetings, check out our 2014 Program Agenda:

About Fort Lauderdale:

“Fort Lauderdale is famous for its beaches, arts, culture and events. From shopping on Las Olas Boulevard, to gondola rides on the canals, to a historic riverfront. Just two miles north of Port Everglades, you can experience a landscaped beachfront promenade, with its signature white wave wall and brick paved path. Across the street, visit luxury hotels, and enjoy shopping or dining or a narrated 90-minute amphibious tour of quaint Las Olas Boulevard, historical districts, and the mansions and yachts dotting Millionaires Row. Stop at the Stranahan House, a preserved 1900s home furnished with antiques of the era. Or "follow the red brick road" of Riverwalk, the landscaped park, to the Arts and Entertainment District. Trying to stay fit? Dive into the Atlantic, hike into the Everglades or enjoy a workout and healthy fare at a resort spa.”
